Why Project & Investment Network?

THE REALITY

Africa needs US$64 billion in power sector investment. Every single year.

While other countries may be debating energy transition timelines, Africa faces a different challenge: 600 million people without reliable electricity access and a US$454 billion funding gap through 2030.

This isn't a policy problem waiting for white papers. It's a US$454 billion opportunity waiting for execution. At Enlit Africa, US$3 billion in projects have been pitched over the past two years alone. That's just the beginning.

Enlit Africa Level 2 isn't a conference. It's where Africa's public and private sector meet the capital, technology and development partners that turn grid constraints into closed deals.

2025 STATS (ENLIT AFRICA):

- 35 African utility CEOs in attendance in 2025
- $800 million across 3 projects presented in 2026
- 1,692 companies from 68 countries
- 262 municipal decision-makers with procurement authority
- 20+ project briefings
